Who is who:

- Hameed Khan is Chair of the Involvement Advisory Group and a public member of ARC South London's Executive and Board
- Natasha Curran is Implementation and Involvement lead for ARC South London, Vice-Chair of the Involvement Advisory Group and Medical Director of the Health Innovation Network
- Savi Hensman is the Patient, Service User, Carer and Public Involvement Coordinator for ARC South London and a member of Service User Research Enterprise (facilitating)
- Caroline Green is a Research Fellow at the ARC South London's social care theme and an involvement champion for the theme. Her research focuses on human rights and inclusion across social care settings

- Rachel Barber is Founder of Living4Moments, a specialist consultancy which aims to improve accessibility in employment, health settings and the community. Previously Rachel managed several care homes in England. Together she and Caroline started a grassroots film project on human rights and social care
- Zoë Vowles is a Midwife and currently works as a Research Assistant with the NIHR ARC South London Maternity and Perinatal Mental Health Theme, and as a Clinical Research Midwife and NIHR Pre-doctoral Clinical Academic Fellow at Guy's and St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust/King's College London
- Zenab Barry is a Political Scientist and an International Development Specialist. She is an outgoing Co-Chair at Chelsea and Westminster Maternity Voices Partnership and is the incumbent Chair of Council at National Maternity Voices. Zenab is passionate about research on maternal inequalities and has been collaborating with ARC South London over the past two years
- Mary Newburn has been working in maternity since 1979, when she trained as an antenatal teacher. She is an advocate for women's voices and families being heard in maternity services and maternity research. She now works as the community and service user involvement lead for the ARC South London Maternity and Perinatal Mental Health theme
