

Policy priorities for high-quality care in care homes: what does the evidence suggest?

Webinar programme

Wednesday 4th May 2022 | 12:30 – 2:00pm

Register here

Webinar Schedule

Chairs Introduction | Catherine Evans, NHIR ARC South London, Professor of Palliative Care, Kings College London

Catherine is a Professor of Palliative Care and Honorary Nurse Consultant. She holds a joint post between the Cicely Saunders Institute at King's College London and Sussex Community NHS Foundation Trust. Her clinical background is in district nursing and palliative care. Catherine's research focuses on addressing inequitable access to palliative care by strengthening the integration in community health and social care for older adults with multimorbidity, including dementia and frailty.

Webinar introduction | Liz Jones, Policy Director, National Care Forum

Presentation 1 | Josie Dixon, Care Policy and Evaluation Centre, London School of Economics and Political Science

Title: Care home managers' experiences of Government guidance, local governance and sources of support for developing and implementing visiting policies: evidence from the Visit-id Study.

Josie is Assistant Professorial Research Fellow at the Care Policy and Evaluation Centre (CPEC), London School of Economics and Political Science. Her professional background is broad-based, spanning academia, consultancy, service improvement, inspection and commissioned policy research. Her research focuses on ageing and care, social care for older people, dementia care and end of life care.

Presentation 2 | Katherine Sleeman, NIHR ARC South London, Cicely Saunders Institute, Kings College London

Title: How did care homes respond to the increased need for palliative and end-of-life care during the COVID-19 pandemic? Evidence from the CovPall_CareHomes study and recommendations for policy

Katherine is Laing Galazka chair in palliative care at the Cicely Saunders Institute at King's College London. She has a background in palliative medicine and works part time as a palliative care consultant at King's College Hospital. Her research focuses on the use of evidence in policy to improve care for people near the end of life.

Presentation 3 | Claire Goodman, NIHR ARC East of England, University of Hertfordshire

Title: Who defines care home residents' quality of life and how is it measured? Findings from the DACHA study to inform the development of a minimum data set for care homes

Claire is Professor of Health Care Research at the Centre for Research In Public health and Community Care (CRIPACC) UH. She is an NIHR Senior Investigator and Ageing and multimorbidity theme lead for the Applied Research Collaboration (ARC) East of England. For over 15 years she has led research into the care and support of older people living and dying at home and in long term care settings. She is the Chief Investigator for the DACHA study.